

Genius Blogging

1 Looking at Blogs

Find some blogs: <http://blogsearch.google.com>

2 Signing up for an account at www.blogger.com

Go to <http://www.blogger.com> and sign in using a Google account.

3 Creating a blog

At blogger.com, choose Create Your Blog Now and it will take you through a number of steps. Nothing you input can't be changed later on!

When you're asked for an address for your blog, choose the word carefully since it will be part of your web address. For example, edayskye will result in a web address of <http://edayskye.blogspot.com>. You are likely to need something unusual to be unique.

Choose a template; you can always change it later

4 Posting to your blog

There are numerous ways of adding to your blog. To get started, edit from within Blogger.

You can include links to other webpages and images. The screen is quite self-explanatory and there's good help links.

5 Let the world see

Your website will be accessible to the world via your chosen web address.

The possibilities are endless!
