

The Scottish Wedding Industry Fund

The Scottish Wedding Industry Fund aimed to help as many businesses as possible operating in the Scottish wedding industry – and their supply chain - to survive the current COVID-19 pandemic and then restart once restrictions ease, thus protecting jobs.

The Fund was open from 28 January to 25 February 2021 to eligible businesses whose main income comes from the wedding sector, offering grants of between £5,000 and £25,000 depending on turnover. It was managed by a partnership of South of Scotland Enterprise, Scottish Enterprise and Highlands and Islands Enterprise.

Those applying were required to provide supporting information including evidence of annual turnover such as accounts, a bank statement from last three months and confirmation the business was trading as at December 2019 before COVID-19 struck.

Each application was fully assessed and each applicant was contacted by the relevant enterprise agency to inform them of their decision. Payments for successful applications have now all been processed.

The Scottish Wedding Industry Fund (SWIF) disbursed £25,900,000 of emergency grant aid to 2,811 legal business entities, affected by the loss of Wedding event business due to COVID-19 restrictions.
